Assurance Domains and Student Success

Assurance in the education system occurs when community members, system stakeholders and education partners engage across five domains:

- Student Growth and Achievement;
- Teaching and Leading;
- Learning Supports;
- Governance; and
- Local and Societal Context.

Optimal Learning for all Students is the priority for Sturgeon Public Schools. The domains of Teaching and Leading, Learning Supports and Governance support this priority and integrate local context to ensure students of Sturgeon Public Schools meet, and excel at, the challenges presented by the global community.

Domains and Outcomes

Each domain is interconnected and part of a complete system supporting student success. Within each domain outcomes are identified to illustrate what will be happening consistently and strategies are outlined to describe how Sturgeon Public Schools will reach those outcomes. Measures are used and communicated to all stakeholders as part of our Annual Education Results Report (AERR) to illustrate success and inform the next cycle of improvement.

- Student Success Coaches, Indigenous School Counsellor, and Lead teachers will work directly with students to support holistic success, family engagement and academic achievement.

2023 - 2026 Implementation

Students learn best when the learning is relevant to their lives and builds on their interests. Educators in Sturgeon Public Schools will increase student engagement with real-life, relevant activities that include hands-on projects and outdoor learning experiences through community partnerships. Learning Coaches will continue to support this work by supporting Professional Learning Communities in their school that focus on understanding Universal Design for Learning as a tool for boosting student engagement.

Students in Sturgeon Public Schools benefit from a divisional focus on numeracy and literacy development. The division will develop numeracy and literacy frameworks, based on research, to provide proven teaching methods across schools. This will support optimal learning and foster stronger skills and understanding in students, which will result in improved achievement in provincial measures.

In classrooms, students benefit from learning opportunities that meet their specific learning needs. Effective literacy and numeracy instruction incorporates learning progressions and high-impact, evidence-based learning activities. In-class, small group instruction is a focus for students in kindergarten to grade three and allows teachers to address diverse learning needs within complex classrooms. Divisional foci for literacy instruction will include phonics instruction, phonological awareness, a comprehensive word study, and continued focus on comprehension and fluency through guided reading. In division 3 & 4, disciplinary literacy will be used as a model to grow literacy practices across disciplines. Divisional Mathematics instruction will continue to incorporate visible learning and thinking classrooms and will introduce Graham Fletcher's progressions of learning and Fact Fluency kits.

Optimal learning in schools is achievable when students respect each other, the school, and participate in the school community. Through collaboration between teachers, counselors, Mental Health and Wellness Coaches, and school leadership, a whole school approach to understanding the attributes of good citizenship will be promoted. This collaboration will emphasize strength building and resilience, and lead to positive mental health within respectful school environments.

By employing staff members that work directly with First Nation, Métis, and Inuit students, students and families are supported through relationships. Individualized support is designed based on specific needs and students' individual contexts are recognized and celebrated.

Public assurance occurs when Sturgeon Public teachers and leaders demonstrate all dimensions of the Teaching or Leadership Quality Standard in a collaborative culture of learning.

- Early successful experiences (mastery experiences) for teachers, staff and students will be planned for and celebrated.

2023 - 2026 Implementation

To guarantee high-quality education and robust instructional leadership, Sturgeon Public Schools will establish the Sturgeon Public Schools Leadership Development Continuum. The continuum includes professional learning for Learning Coaches as informal instructional leaders. Prospective leaders will continue to have the opportunity to develop through the Sturgeon Aspiring Leadership Team (SALT). This cohort includes a two year rotation and is focused on developing the key characteristics for leaders in Sturgeon Public Schools. From SALT, the continuum focuses on the Vice Principals. Designed around the Leadership Quality Standard (LQS), this cohort focuses on the practices and procedures that are required for effective leadership. The final step in the continuum is Principal / Division Leader Professional Learning. This stage of the continuum serves to strengthen support and collaboration between leaders. This group focuses on both emergent leadership themes and foundational leadership skills. Sturgeon Public School's Leadership development continuum will scaffold leadership succession from within the school division. This continuum will ensure aspiring, new and seasoned leaders build skills, form effective relationships and create opportunities for optimum learning.

School leaders will be provided support to design and implement School Education Plans that identify specific, measurable goals and are aligned with high-impact learning strategies and leverage inter-school collaboration to measure and support students' academic growth and improve graduation rates. Divisional and school-based professional development plans explicitly address literacy, numeracy and Indigenous student success while recognizing individual school contexts and needs.

An assessment lead team will be assembled to guide division work around promoting progressive, evidence-based, responsive assessment practice. Teachers and leaders will create an overview that will guide growth and development in assessment practice division-wide. Effective assessment practices create clarity around student learning outcomes and will positively impact our results around learning expectations.

Sturgeon Public Schools recognizes the value of shared learning experiences and the value of early successful experiences in building powerful learning environments for students and teachers. Teachers in Sturgeon Public Schools will continue to benefit from opportunities to gather together to engage in collective learning and grade level collaboration. Collective learning will ground teaching practices in highly engaging, evidence-based, literacy and numeracy rich experiences, while collaboration time allows teachers to celebrate the successes and share methods that will allow other teachers to experience similar successes. In addition, each grade level will continue to look at shared resources across subjects. These resources will create a shared language between schools and allow for increased collaboration between schools. Sharing best practice will directly positively impact students' perspectives of engagement and rigor and teachers' skills around offering active and visible learning activities. New curriculum is a focus of all educators kindergarten to grade 6 and is an opportunity to engage in new learning for educators. Therefore, Learning Coaches in Sturgeon Public Schools will collaborate with grade teams to build optimal learning environments that include strong foundational teaching practices in all curriculum, with a focus in literacy and numeracy across the disciplines. Data will be used as an effective tool to drive planning while using evidence based best practices to continue to ensure that all students make academic gains throughout the year.

-Staff Survey, 2023

2023 - 2026 Implementation

Students in Sturgeon Public Schools benefit from experienced and knowledgeable staff who have a foundation in Collaborative Proactive Solutions (CPS), Positive Behaviour Supports (PBS), Neurosequential Model in Education (NME), Webs of Support and Therapeutic Crisis Intervention (TCI). Through these best practices schools will foster welcoming learning environments and provide physical, social, mental and emotional wellness to students. We will continue to provide our staff with access to the most current and up to date research based information and tools that support the work they do and align with current best practices. Building on the foundational understanding that all students will do well if they can, will allow staff to meet students where they are at and provide our students and families with the support needed to ensure a feeling of safety and belonging. Strategies Support Classrooms will reflect this work and provide students with teaching and support around regulation, meeting social emotional needs of students.

Learning Services recognizes the value in providing students with programming that is at each student's individual level and meets their academic, social, emotional, and physical needs. Sturgeon Public Schools is committed, through differentiation, Universal Design for Learning (UDL) and inclusive opportunities, to offer a robust and comprehensive level of programming that aims to provide meaningful inclusion, independence, build relationships and create opportunities for strategic and explicit instruction. Specialized Programming will continue to be a flexible model that is responsive to support students with complex learning needs related to significant cognitive delays. Specialized Programming will be accessible across all schools in the division but will also have congregated settings to offer tier 2 and 3 support as needed. Programming and goals will be determined based on the individual student, the family priorities and work towards inclusion and independence.

Sturgeon Public Schools will continue to support the mental health and wellness of both staff and students. Using the SEL framework, School Counsellors, Mental Health Coaches, Mental Health Therapists and Social Workers will aim to provide our students and families with the necessary tools, knowledge and skills to help them to overcome and thrive in today's society. Through a partnership with CASA, Sturgeon Public Schools has introduced two CASA classrooms to deliver mental health care within the classroom and will continue to address the need for services closer to students by bridging a child's mental health and school needs.

Indigenous Education and Student Success

Sturgeon Public Schools continues its commitment to Indigenous student success, deepening Indigenous foundational knowledge, and taking action towards truth and reconciliation. The Indigenous Lead Teacher and Métis Learning Coaches work with teaching staff and school administrators to honour and naturalize Indigenous approaches to learning within all classrooms and schools. In addition to division-wide acknowledgement of Truth and Reconciliation Week, Métis Week, and National Indigenous Peoples Day, staff are supported with vetted and timely resources throughout the school year. By focusing on monthly themes, continuous and robust support is organized and accessible to all teachers. Support for students and staff to access outdoor learning and land based learning sites continues through our partnership with local, historically relevant, outdoor learning opportunities. Staff and students continue to have opportunities to participate in blanket exercises, and cultural learning experiences.

Indigenous student success continues to be a divisional priority. Indigenous Student Success Coaches, Indigenous School Counselor, and six Educational Assistants work to reduce barriers for students and families and improve drivers of student achievement. By focusing on strengthening belonging, seeing Indigenous worldview and role models in their learning, and creating supports for academic success and graduation, all students benefit. The introduction of Indigenous Family Nights was well received, and will continue next year to further build welcoming and connected relationships with students and their families. With support from our Student Success Coach, an Indigenous Student Chief and Council has been established. Student leaders are celebrated and given opportunities to hone their leadership skills. Students have chosen to engage in organizing events and creating opportunities to build awareness and connection within their school community. Additionally, we have engaged in a Research Project, supported by Alberta Education and led by Dr. Emily Milne, to examine First Nations, Métis, and Inuit student course selection and academic pathways within Sturgeon Public Schools. Learning from the perspectives of Indigenous students and their families, and meaningfully engaging with their feedback, guides effective support for student success.

We continue to host a Call to Action Cohort for Staff. Leaders at each school site attend bimonthly meetings to build foundational knowledge and worldview, understand historical context, learn from elders and knowledge keepers and build learning opportunities that support equity and diversity. Leads share their learning using a cascade model during school-based professional learning opportunities. They are also available to support staff and teachers throughout the school year. Teachers will have the opportunity to attend the Treaty 6, 8, and 9 First Nations Educators Conference and the CASS First Nations, Métis & Inuit Education Gathering.

2023 - 2026 Implementation

It is important to hear from everyone involved in our children's education in order to work together within our community to ensure students succeed. In 2023, Sturgeon Public Schools will reach out to stakeholders through surveys and events or opportunities to talk in-person. Survey data, moving forward, will be more closely aligned with our Mission, Vision and Values and the Outcomes expressed in the Education Plan. We will continue the direct Parent survey started this year, and seek opportunities through School Councils or events to have direct conversations for growth. Active student voice is critical in ensuring our values of belonging, respect, and shared responsibility in education are supported. The Board continues to support our Student Advocacy Committee made up of grade 7 to 12 students from schools across the division. This student leadership group will meet three times each year, bringing together student leaders from across the division. Students participate in leadership activities, provide feedback directly to School Board Trustees and engage in planning around school-based activities that promote connection, wellbeing and school spirit.

Optimal student learning occurs within supportive, inclusive and equitable environments. The findings of the 2022 ThoughtExchange clearly indicate financial resources should prioritize classroom learning and school oriented events. Central leadership will continue to collaborate with school administration to ensure the distribution of programs and staffing aligns with the needs of each school and community.

Sturgeon Public Schools will continue to provide chances for parents/guardians and members of the community to volunteer in schools and participate in school events or activities. Historically, parents have shared with students on career days, read to classes during literacy week, and played card games or logic games with students during numeracy challenges. Attending events hosted at school also helps build relationships and a positive community. This coming year schools will continue to support parents with information and discussion evenings on current needs, such as Online safety, and building Mental health in children. Collaborating with families and parents will guarantee that students receive support, recognition, and inspiration to pursue lifelong learning.

Domain: Local and Societal Context

- Schools implement student volunteer opportunities in their communities and encourage participation in division-wide events.

Outcome 13

Schools implement student volunteer opportunities in their communities and encourage participation in division-wide events.

2023 - 2026 Implementation

Schools are engaging students in a variety of Science, Technology, Engineering, Art, and Math (STEAM) challenges throughout the year. Students and teacher coaches work together to create projects that meet specific challenge criteria. #SPS Maker Month allows students and staff to share their work and celebrate the accomplishments of all students involved. This activity allows students to participate in activities that showcase their learning and collaboration skills.

Outcome 14

Partnerships with external agencies are in place and used to enhance the conditions required for student achievement.

Based on insight from the Student Advisory Committee, new events around Literacy and Numeracy across the division will be promoted. These events will be anchored in existing school events, and seek ways to bring students together across schools. Sturgeon Public has a proud history of competition and collaboration within athletics. Student athletes, student leaders, and student volunteers work together to support sporting events. These students build skills that support growth across educational and interpersonal dimensions. Schools receive support from the Manager of Marketing and Communications to create and share school celebrations in a way that is relevant to today's youth and families. In-person events are captured and shared through pictures and video to connect our communities to the great work that is happening within Sturgeon Public Schools.

Schools are working toward strengthening community partnerships and developing opportunities for students to volunteer and support local activities. Schools connect with community organizations and have students actively participate in local markets, celebrations, and other community events.

SPS receives excellent support from the business community throughout the school division, hiring our students in both Work Experience and Registered Apprenticeship Programs (RAP). Students can receive credit toward high school graduation through working with these employers. Students may also receive their first year apprenticeship in the trades while working through RAP.

"Parental involvement means parents being aware of their child's grades and feelings throughout the school year."

Sturgeon Public Schools Community Partnerships

Sturgeon Public Schools values its many partnerships that develop student entrepreneurship, cultural understanding and sustain wellness. This value permeates through Sturgeon Public Schools as individual schools develop local connections to encourage students to understand local contexts. Getting involved with local businesses, community groups and government helps to build ethical citizens, expands opportunities for supporting students and parents and creates diverse and resilient communities.
